This initiative during Pinktober embodies our commitment to supporting the women of Ropstam, demonstrating our solidarity in the fight against breast cancer.

The event commenced with a gesture of support, distributing thoughtful gifts to female participants. Beyond tokens of appreciation, these gifts aimed to promote a sense of unity and care within our community, reflecting Ropstam's commitment to their well-being.

It was an enlightening session led by professional doctors. Covering various essential topics, it aimed to debunk myths, provide valuable insights, emphasizing the significance of self-examinations & advancements in breast cancer research. The goal was to equip our female team members with critical knowledge in a major step forward to counter this disease. Focused on strengthening the women in our community, the event underscored the significance of early detection and proper care in defeating breast cancer.

The session arranged by the Ropstam management underscored the role women play in supporting families and communities, emphasizing their vital role in safeguarding their well-being.
