EMPOWERING BREAST CANCER AWARENESS SESSION

Ropstam's management believes in creating a supportive and empowering environment for all our employees. This is why, in October, we organized a special and insightful session dedicated to breast cancer awareness for our female employees. With the guidance of renowned psychologist Rubab Hassan, the session provided a valuable platform for learning, support, and inspiration.

In line with the theme of this session, the Islamabad office was adorned with pink balloons and bouquets, setting the stage for an informative and empowering event. Meanwhile, the female employees at the Lahore office participated virtually to attend this session. This session, led by Rubab Hassan, was informative as she shared motivational stories of the breast cancer survivors.

Toward the end of the session, as a special surprise, the management distributed gift baskets to the female employees. This heartwarming gesture underscored the company's commitment to the well-being of its team members. This event not only promoted a healthy work-life balance but also exemplified the company's dedication to creating a supportive and inclusive workplace.

SPOOKY FIESTA PARTY

To celebrate Halloween, on October 31st, we transformed our office into a haunted haven for a Spooky Halloween Fiesta. The air was filled with eerie fog, dim lights, and giant cobwebs, creating a spine-chilling atmosphere. Employees were greeted by a life-sized scarecrow, and a witch emerging from under the food table, which added extra eerieness, delight and fright to the haunted fiesta.

The core of the event was the devilish games like the Boo-Tower Challenge and Mallow Catch, where various team members competed and laughed. The highlight was the Best Costume and Ramp Walk contest, featuring possessed dolls, zombies, and Ghostface. The creativity was astounding and chuckles became a prominent, significant feature and a part of this haunted and fun-filled Halloween evening.

But that's not all! To culminate this event, everyone gathered in the basement where delicious food items were waiting for them. Our Halloween-inspired menu included Mystic Munches, Spooky Nachos, Coffin Sandwiches, and Marshmallows making the spooky feast as eerie and haunted as it was delicious and delectable.
